

About Silverander Communications

Silverander Communications is a creative services firm serving clients in manufacturing, publishing, distribution, direct sales, education, the nonprofit sector, and professional services.

Founded in 1985, the company offers a full range of creative, production, and project management services that include goal definition, conceptualization, copywriting, design, art direction, digital production, and the management of outside services.

The staff includes art directors, copywriters, graphic designers, web development and support personnel.

Operations are conducted from a studio in Santa Barbara, California. The creative team at Silverander Communications places special emphasis on representing their clients' interests and providing the highest possible quality of work and level of service.

silverander communications

616 East Cota Santa Barbara, CA 93101 T 805.963.1043 F 805.963.2324
info@silverander.com www.silverander.com